Scope of Present Duties:

None - Retired

Most Relevant Past Experience:

Prior to retiring in January, 2015, Dr. Benjamin C. Garrett was assigned to the FBI Laboratory Division, Forensic Response Section, Quantico, Virginia. He had been appointed to the Senior Level Executive Service in July 2005 and served as the FBI's Senior Scientist for operational response to crimes or incidents involving Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD). As a member of the Laboratory Executive Management, Dr. Garrett assisted with advancing the FBI's methods for crime scene processing and for examining evidence contaminated by toxic chemicals, biological pathogens and radiological and nuclear materials.

In addition to his responsibilities in the FBI Laboratory Division, Dr. Garrett has served as an instructor for the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) for its Workshop on Radiological Crime Scene Management and Nuclear Forensics and in a similar capacity with INTERPOL, the international policing organization. He guided the development of the Implementing Guide for Radiological Crime Scene Management, issued in November 2014 by the IAEA and published jointly by the IAEA, INTERPOL and the United Nations Interregional Crime and Justice Research Institute (UNICRI). From 2009 to 2014, he served as the co-chairman of the Nuclear Forensics International Technical Working Group (ITWG).

Dr. Garrett is the author of the Historical Dictionary of Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Warfare (Lanham, Maryland: Scarecrow Press, 2007).
