

LECTURER'S VITAE

IAEA-ARGONNE TRAINING COURSE

Name: Guenter Conzelmann

Present Position: Center Director, Group Leader, and Principal Energy/Environmental Systems Engineer

Affiliation: Center for Energy, Environmental, and Economic Systems Analysis, Argonne National Laboratory

Address: 9700 South Cass Ave
Argonne, IL 60439

Phone Number: 630-252-7173

Fax Number: _____

E-mail Address: guenter@anl.gov

Scope of Present Duties:

Guenter Conzelmann is the Director of the Center for Energy, Environmental, and Economic Systems Analysis at Argonne National Laboratory. He is a Senior Fellow with the Energy Policy Institute at Chicago/University of Chicago as well as with the Northwestern University's NAISE Institute and an Adjunct Faculty with Stuart School of Business at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Most Relevant Past Experience:

His research focuses on the development and application of modeling and simulation tools to study strategic energy and power sector issues, including energy efficiency of buildings, renewable energy integration, advanced conventional energy, smart grid and microgrid implementation, and environmental impacts of energy production. Mr. Conzelmann is also leading Argonne's Wind Power Technologies and Analysis Program and is actively engaged in Argonne's advanced grid activities. He is the author/co-author of numerous publications, including journal articles, book contributions, conference papers, and sponsor reports in the energy and power systems field. He is frequently invited to speak on these subjects at conferences, workshops, and training courses around the world.

Educational Background:

1989 Fulbright Scholarship from Fulbright Commission Bonn, Germany, August 1989.

1989 Dipl. Ing. (FH) Environmental Engineering, University of Bingen, Germany

NOTE: If you do not want the above information published to the training course website, please check this box.